DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 14 and 15 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection. Claims 14-15 and 17-28 are currently pending. Claims 17-28 are withdrawn from further consideration as being drawn to a non-elected invention. Claims 14 and 15 are rejected under 102 as being anticipated by Uchida et al (US 6057051).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 14 and 15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Uchida et al (US 6057051). The Uchida reference teaches a system for generating and providing fuel cell data to a processing system comprising: a hydrogen storage unit "5"; a fuel cell "2" coupled to hydrogen storage unit; voltage, current, pressure and temperature sensors for sensing fuel cell characteristics and for providing sensor signals indicative of fuel cell characteristic to a controller; a control unit "9" coupled to fuel cell for determining fuel cell parameter values in accordance with sensed fuel cell characteristics; a processor in the computer connected to the fuel cell system comprising a fuel indicator such as the pressure sensor in the hydrogen storage unit; a method of detecting the flow rate of the hydrogen which would be a flow meter coupled between hydrogen storage unit and fuel cell for measuring fuel consumption and providing a fuel consumption signal indicative of consumed amount of fuel to control unit; an equipment connection terminal for providing fuel cell data from fuel cell to processor wherein the fuel cell data comprises at least one of determined fuel cell parameters; a controller that is coupled to processor via equipment connection terminal, determines a remaining amount of fuel in fuel cell in accordance with consumed amount of fuel, determines a remaining amount of fuel cell power in accordance with remaining amount of fuel, determines an electrical consumption rate being consumed by computer operating system in accordance with a sensed electrical current provided by fuel cell to processor, transmits values indicative of remaining amount of power and electrical consumption rate from fuel cell to a computer operating system residing in processing system via equipment connection terminal, and a processor that determines an amount of time for fuel cell to provide power to associated computer operating system in accordance with transmitted values indicative of remaining amount of power and electrical consumption rate. In addition, it also teaches an operating system that renders the amount of remaining time via processor (See column 5, line 54 to column 6, line 6 and column 7, lines 39-58).
